

UI Health Hospital & Clinics ROUNDUP

September 2018

Dr. Carissa Tyo,
Physician of the Year

Dr. Karim Khan,
Resident of the Year

Congratulations to our 2018 Physician and Resident of the Year!

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR 2018 PHYSICIAN AND RESIDENT OF THE YEAR!

It is with great pleasure that UI Health recognizes the physicians who have been selected as the 2018 Physician and Resident of the Year.

Dr. Carissa Tyo

Emergency Department

"I am humbled and uplifted by this honor. My work here at UI Health has always focused on educating doctors with both academic prowess and heart. I have been privileged to be able to expand that reach to a broader scope within the hospital and am beyond proud to watch the evolution of our system to model the same ideals. As an inner-city hospital driven to excellent care with a focus on health equity, we have as an institution pushed to attain goals I have held dear on a personal and professional level. May this spirit of addressing the whole of the patient spill over to minding the health of the providers throughout our system and may we continue caring for each other while we care for our patients."

Dr. Karim Khan

Internal Medicine Program

"I'm honored to have been named Resident of the Year. I've been able to grow — both as a clinician and in general as a human — thanks to the opportunities to work with socioeconomically diverse communities through the Internal Medicine Residency. I look forward to working with my fellow residents and attendings to continue to develop several community projects, ranging from work with people who are living on the streets to people coming from underserved neighborhoods."

These physicians continuously put patients first, collaborate with other departments, respect their peers, and personify the core values of our mission at UI Health.

Selection for Physician and Resident of the Year is a multi-step process. Once the nomination period ends, the submissions are reviewed and rated against criteria for the awards. After the top three nominees are identified, the candidates go to a second round of review with medical staff leadership and strategic partners before a final selection is made.

Now Available: New OPIO Courses

You may be asked to be part of an improvement project involving your workflow or care delivery practices.

The Organizational Process Improvement Office (OPIO) offers a three-day course titled: “How to see it, improve it, and get people to support it” to provide clinicians and staff the knowledge, skills, and tools needed to succeed. In this course you will learn the essential foundations of process improvement, change management, and team dynamics. Courses are free for UI Health personnel and are held on campus from 7:45 am to 3:30 pm each day.

Next dates:

Sept. 10-12	March 11-13
Oct. 15-17	April 8-10
Nov. 12-14	May 13-15
Jan. 14-16	June 10-12
Feb. 11-13

CME and CNE credit are available for physicians and nurses who attend.

For more information or to register, contact the OPIO at opi@uic.edu or 312.413.8974.

Congratulations to our Hand Hygiene Winners!

More than 1,200 UI Health providers were “caught in the act” for proper hand hygiene during the first three months of our recent “Foam Up” initiative. Sonia Haro, 6E Neuro ICU, and Susan Mills, 7W Organ Transplant Physical Therapy, were our hand hygiene raffle winners for June and July.

Hand hygiene is the most important intervention to protect patients and healthcare workers. Using soap and water for 15 seconds, or alcohol gel, can keep our patients safe and healthy.

Retirement Reception Honoring Dr. William Chamberlin

Dr. William Chamberlin, Chief Compliance Officer, will be retiring from UI Health on Aug. 31.

Dr. Chamberlin has a long history with Chicago healthcare.

He graduated in 1974 from the Abraham Lincoln School of Medicine here at UIC and promptly married Kathleen Campbell, with whom he has enjoyed the last 44 years.

Following postgraduate training at the Baylor College of Medicine and residency at the United States Veterans Administration Hospital, he returned to Chicago in 1979 as Director of the Medical-Surgical Critical Care Unit at Michael Reese Hospital and as an Assistant Professor of Medicine at the University of Chicago. At Michael Reese, Dr. Chamberlin became Chief of Internal Medicine and Director of the Internal Medicine Residency Program. During his time as chief, he founded the Michael Reese Research and Education Foundation to support the substantial research efforts at the hospital.

After Michael Reese was sold, Dr. Chamberlin returned to UI Health in 1995 as Chief Medical Officer and Associate Dean of the College of Medicine, posts he held until 2012. At that time, he stepped into the role of Director of the Institute for Patient Safety before becoming Chief Compliance Officer, the role from which he is retiring.

Please join us for a celebration honoring Bill and his accomplished career.
